Marianne,

We have some scheduling conflicts on our side before the 1pm conference call, but I am available for a chat. Please let me know what time you are available and I will give you a call.

Thanks. I'll pass this along to the complainants.

The agenda raises a host of questions and I'm wondering if it might be helpful to have a quick conversation before the group call. Otherwise, we can ask questions during the call and follow up afterward.

Best,

Marianne

Mary,

This email follows up on your request to identify a date and time for a conversation with the complainants in the Uniontown, Alabama case. In the interest of moving things forward as quickly as possible, complainants can be available on Wednesday the 4th from 1-2:30.

Please send the call-in information, an update on the status of the investigation, and an agenda for the call. It would be helpful to have information about the status of the investigation, and the agenda for the call in advance so that participants can prepare and the conversation can be as productive as possible.

Best,

Marianne
